Trustees Notes...

I hope everyone had a Blessed Thanksgiving. I know times are still hard on all of us with this new spike in cases of Covid-19. I'd like to let everyone know, the safety of all staff and residents are the most important thing. Unfortunately, we were forced to make the decision of shutting down the Maintenance Department for regular indoor jobs. Of course, we will continue to take care of any plumbing or electrical emergencies. The workers have been instructed not to enter homes, even for an emergency if you are not wearing a mask. We also ask you keep your distance and let them resolve your emergency.

I would like to send my gratitude to our Office Staff, Nancy DeNoia, Joanne Madsen and Lillian Fiore along with our Custodian, Russ. This year has been tough for everyone. We shut down the office in mid March due to Covid-19.

Russ continued to come in every morning to collect all the mail and check the Clubhouse for any issues. Russ was always a phone call away for anything that came up. He would update our Marquee sign at the top of Hope Road, he would set up for newsletter distribution or anything we asked. He is a model employee and we are lucky to have him.

Lillian would come in to distribute newsletters to our reps. She also was always available for anything we needed. Starting at the end of July, Lillian would come in several mornings to answer phones and monitor Residents insurance policies.

Joanne would come in every morning to make deposits as the bills do not stop! She would schedule and prepare for interviews. She would open up and work with the Trustees doing these interviews. She kept the Village going.

Nancy mostly worked from home. She is networked in to the office. She kept up the bookkeeping and the resales. She would come in once or twice a week to print checks, go thru the mail, pay bills and conduct closings. During this time, we had 45 closings! There were other Villages who would not do any closings.

We are very fortunate for the staff that we have and I hope everyone will show them the appreciation that they deserve.

I wish all of you a Blessed and Beautiful Christmas and a Happy Hanukkah.

Thompson Hill

In Northern Maine there is a place
With mountains all around;
Blue spruce and fir trees fill the space,
And here and there, a town.
Where lakes and ponds and streams abound,
Too numerous to name,
A magic spot is what I found,
Up on a hill, in Maine.
For I was just a girl of nine,
That's when my Mom took ill.
So I would stay with my aunt Jean;
She lived on Thompson Hill.
Some weeknights Dad would visit us,
Some weekends I'd go home.
And after school, dropped off by bus,
I was allowed to roam.
"Be back for supper," she would say,
"Don't go too far away!"
The winter snow crust crackled bright
When I went out to play;
This soon became a pleasant rite
Enjoyed most every day.
But one day frosted evergreens
Swayed to a steeper way:
Through sunlight low, a frozen stream,
Ice castles on its rise.
With crystal caverns, like a dream;
Could I believe my eyes?
The brook rose up, and as it grew
Its ice caves deep and wide,
I heard a whistling wind that blew
Through chambers hid inside.
It blew through slender columned rows
Like some rare cello strings
Vibrating softly. Then I thought
I heard my mother sing!
I hurried back and rushed right in;
The wind had played a trick!
But my aunt said, with beaming grin
"Your Mom's no longer sick!"
"Your Dad just called, she's going home,
And you can go home, too."
I hugged my aunt, we said goodbye.
Soon life returned, routine.
I'm grown now, but I sometimes sigh,
Recalling kind aunt Jean.
And winter dreams of times gone by
When I remember still,
Ice castles, and the magic wind
That sang on Thompson Hill.

Dreamare

Lying in a hammock under the trees, coming and going with the summer breeze.

Slowly I drifted, slowly away, to the land of dreams with their gentle sway.

But this journey differed from those of the past.

The ship ran aground, sails ripped from the mast.

The seas swamped the deck, the waves crashed the shore.

The whole body of water rose with a roar.

The ship broke apart, rolled in the waves.

Pulled all under to watery graves.

Down thru the depths, in the currents snare.

Down thru the depths to the dragon's lair.

Past the swirling turmoil, thru the brimstone haze, there on his throne the beast I did gaze.

"Who dares to tread within my den you worthless flesh from the world of men", roared the beast.

"A wayward dreamer cast from his helm, a wandering spirit within your realm.", was the reply.

"Hah! To think you're spirit what gall, you're putrid flesh that's all!"

"Flesh I am and so much more, an infinite spirit with no bounding shore."

"Liar! You are flesh that I will shred, to my hounds and jackals you will be fed!"

"Devour me if you wish, if your existence you'll not miss."

"Listen", hissed the beast, "flesh you are and nothing more, many pitfalls I have for you in store.

I send you back to your waking life where reality cuts like a knife.

And every time you are pained, remember that's what I've ordained."

With gasp of breath, fear and fright, I awoke in the midst of night.

With beads of sweat and racing heart, from the nightmare I did part.

I found myself lying in a hammock under the trees, coming and going with the summer breeze.

Slowly I drifted, slowly this way, back to my safe sheltered bay

I know we have all had days when we go into another room and upon our arrival, can't remember why or what we were going to do. It is very frustrating and upsetting.....We can't remember what we had for breakfast yesterday but we can remember things from our childhood or something that happened 10 years ago.....

When someone asks you to "remember" a particular time in your life or a person from your past, what kinds of things go through your mind? Perhaps it was a time in your life when you were raising a family or a time of sickness for a loved one. Sometimes it is with fond memories we think of someone from our past, but often it is with sadness.

Most of you know me, but there are several things from my past that you do not know about me. I like to live on the edge a little bit.....my friends tell me that I always have.

For one thing.....I have always been certain that I can fly. When I was a young girl, my brother and I were enamored by Superman. He could fly by just leaping into the air. Well, I tried that and it didn't work for me. So we figured if we could just run fast enough we would be able to spread our arms like wings and take flight. After many scraped elbows and knees, due to crash landings, we put that idea aside. But we didn't give up. I had a rather large playhouse that my dad built for me in our back yard. Sometimes I used it to play dolls with my friends and sometimes my brother and our friends used it for a fort when they played Cowboys and Indians. We decided it would be perfect to aid us in our desire to fly. So we climbed on the roof, spread our wings, and sprang forward.....fully expecting to be able to fly or at least glide down to the earth below. More crash landings followed. When I watched the winter Olympics and saw the skiers and snow boarders fly through the air, I knew I had missed my calling as that was probably as close to flying as a person could get. Trying to fly is one of my best and most laughable childhood memories mostly because it was shared with my beloved brother, Butch.

Not that I haven't had some sad and trying times in my life – we all have and some of us are going through rough times right now. We are experiencing situations we never dreamed we would have to deal with. Being isolated from one another makes it even more difficult. So for me, whenever possible, I like to remember things that make me laugh and hopefully my memories have caused you to laugh today.

What You Should Know About Getting Towed

consumer brief

The amended Predatory Towing Prevention Act became effective in New Jersey on April 15, 2009. The amended Act regulates tows from private property, and tows initiated by law enforcement, without the prior consent of the vehicle's owner or operator.

TOWING FROM PRIVATE PROPERTY

Unattended cars cannot be towed from private parking lots, unless:

- There is a sign, no smaller than 36" high by 36" wide, posted at vehicular entrances to the property stating:
 - 1) The purposes for which parking is authorized;
 - 2) The times when parking is permitted;
 - 3) That unauthorized parking is prohibited and unauthorized vehicles will be towed at the owner's expense;
 - 4) The name of, and contact information for, the towing company and the address of the storage facility—which must be secure and located within a reasonable distance of the property—to which the vehicle will be towed;
 - 5) The charges for towing and storage and the times during which the vehicle may be redeemed; and
 - 6) Contact information for the Division of Consumer Affairs (1-800-242-5846).

■ The property owner and the towing company have a contract for the towing and the property owner has authorized the towing company to remove the particular vehicle.

The requirements do not apply to a single-family home or an owner-occupied multi-unit structure, and the signage requirements are different for a residential community with clearly marked assigned spaces for residents.

UNLAWFUL PRACTICES FOR TOWING COMPANIES

The Act prohibits towing companies from the following:

- Failing to release a vehicle hooked or lifted, but not actually removed from private property, upon request of the vehicle's owner;
- Trolling (cruising) for vehicles parked without authorization;
- Paying for information about vehicles parked without authorization;
- Refusing to accept an insurance company check or a debit card, charge card, credit card or check for towing or storage services, if the towing company ordinarily accepts such payment at its place of business;
- Charging for a towing or storage service not on the Division's schedule of services; and
- Charging an unreasonable or excessive fee.

TOWING AND STORAGE CHARGES

The towing company's fees must be reasonable. A reasonable fee is considered one that is no more than 25% greater than the company's fee for the same vehicle-owner-approved towing services, or no more than 50% above the fees charged by other towing companies in the community for the same towing services without the vehicle owner's permission.

Towing and storage charges cannot exceed rates set by town ordinance.

MAINTENANCE

MINUTE

Hello Residents of Village 1:

I hope this month's Maintenance Minute finds everyone well during these very trying times. I would like to express my gratitude and appreciation to everyone for their patience and understanding over the past few months, unfortunately we are going to call on your patience and understanding once again in light of the increasing cases of COVID-19 nationwide and in our backyard.

In an attempt to keep everyone safe and hopefully healthy, the Maintenance Department has been instructed to reassess our current situation and scheduling moving forward. The Maintenance Department is going back to addressing interior emergencies only (heating, plumbing, electrical, roof leaks) and exterior work around the village. Interior non-emergency related work requests will be added to a list and taken care of at our earliest availability. If you are in need of any of these services or have questions on how your situation pertains to the current state of affairs, please call the Maintenance Department. We are here during regular business hours and if you call during those hours, there is no $60 charge for any requested emergency type interior work. If you call after hours or on the weekends, the $60 charge will be billed to you.

For all work requests moving forward, residents are to call the Maintenance Department, the Trustees Office or provide a written request which can be delivered to the mailbox in front of Friendship Hall or the box located outside the Maintenance Department door. THE MAINTENANCE DEPARTMENT IS CLOSED TO ALL NON-EMPLOYEED PEOPLE AND YOU WILL BE REQUESTED TO CALL OR DROP OFF WORK REQUESTS.

When you are being serviced by the Maintenance Department, we request that you have a mask on, show them where the issue is and then keep your distance and allow them to complete their work while following the safe distancing rules. They will notify you when the work has been completed and will provide any information or further instructions at that time.

The Maintenance Department reserves the right to leave your job if the above instructions are not followed and your work will then be rescheduled at a later date.

If you cannot wait and you feel that you will be contacting a contractor to handle your request, please remember that in most cases a Permission Request Form will need to be submitted to the Trustees Office so that we can made aware of work being completed and if the contractors you are utilizing are on the Trustees Office approved contractor list and to ensure they are caring the appropriate insurance.

Thank you in advance for your cooperation and patience during these difficult times as we continue to work through this.

Stay well and take care!

Your Maintenance Department,
Chris Peschock

Bocce / Shuffleboard

Thanks to all who have been coming out on Monday evenings to play bocce. We had approximately 25 - 30 players show up the first few weeks. Then we were met with two weeks of rain. After the rain, it has gotten cooler and darker earlier. So the last couple of weeks we changed from beginning at 5:30 pm to 3:00 in the afternoon. Fewer players are there each week, but those who have continued have enjoyed being outside and being with others. After the few weeks were played, there was no real Champion declared, but Joe's team was well in the lead. Congratulations.

We missed having a bocce / shuffleboard luncheon to recognize the winning teams. However, I think we are all winners as we have survived 8 months of the effects of being cooped up because of the COVID virus and are still going strong. As the weather continues to get cooler and we move back inside our homes, get ready to enjoy the beauty of the winter and holiday season.

Thank you, Joe Feola...You are a great leader for our group and a source of encouragement to all here in Village I.
